SEARCHING FOR DEAD IN RUINS

Many Charred Bodies of Girls Recovered Last Night

FLAMES SPREAD FAST

In the Binghamton Holocaust When Overall Factory Burned Trapping 125 of the Employees in the Building.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Binghamton, N. Y., July 23.—The exact number of persons who perished in the fire of the factory of the Binghamton Clothing company, yesterday, may never be known. The list of employees is in the ruins. Only half a dozen of the bodies recovered have been identified. A careful estimate today places the number of those in the buildings at the time the fire started, at 111. Of these only 53 are known to have been saved. Six dead have been identified; fifteen bodies charred beyond recognition are at the morgue. Fifteen injured are in the hospitals, forty-six, several slightly injured at their homes. Eleven have been reported by relatives as missing and twenty-six others are unaccounted for.

Mrs. Ida Prentiss, who suffered terrible burns about the head died today and Mrs. Mary Benny, another of the injured is not expected to recover.

City officials estimate the death toll at fifty but admit it may reach sixty. Physicians expressed the belief that the bodies of several of those lost in the center of the building would never be found.

Crowds gathered about the scene of the disaster today and silently watched the men at work in the debris under the direction of Mayor Irving. Charred bits of human flesh were picked up here and there and shortly before noon a body was recovered burned beyond recognition.

District Attorney Frederick J. Meagher announced today that a thorough investigation would be made as to the cause of the disaster and to determine the responsibility, if any, for the loss of life.

Mayor Irving will issue a proclamation calling upon the citizens of Binghamton for a general observance of a day to be set apart for the funeral of the victims. As many of the bodies are unrecognizable, a public funeral will be conducted by the city and the unknown dead will be buried in a plot upon which a shaft will be erected.

Frank S. Ash of Binghamton, an inspector for the state labor department said today that the fire escaped on the building were of a type demanded by the state regulation.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Binghamton, N. Y., July 23.—At daybreak today a big force of city employees began to search for the dead entombed beneath the smoldering ruins of the overall factory of the Binghamton Clothing company. Not until the tangled mass of brick and steel has been removed will the toll of lives in the tragedy be known.

About 125 employees, mostly women and girls, were trapped in the burning walls and of these only forty-one are known to have escaped. Sixteen charred bodies, still unidentified, were recovered last night.

The identified dead and missing are:

Nellie Connor.
Sidney Dimmick.
Mary Cregan.
Louise Hartwell.
Mary Pryor.
John E. Shoemaker, Philadelphia.
Marguerita Diamond.
Mrs. Thomas Doran.
Ida Golden.
Nellie Gleason.
Mrs. Anna Gleason.

Mrs. May Leighton.
Ruth Crotty.
Edna Crotty.
Mrs. Mary Bennett.
Charles Contesse.
Mrs. Ida Houghtaling.
Jared Orr.
Mrs. Ida Prentice.
Mrs. Margaret Quick.

The list of 134 employees of the company who were on the pay roll Saturday, some of whom were on vacations, is in the safe under the ruins, making the task of compiling the list of dead a difficult one.

The number of dead had been placed at 50.
The loss by fire is estimated at more than $200,000 largely covered by insurance. The postoffice, built about 20 years ago was badly damaged, but the mails were saved. A temporary office has been established in a garage. The loss of life is believed to have been largely due to the fact that the employees, believing that one of the frequent drills was being held, were slow in leaving the building. Even when it became known that the building was on fire, many returned to the dressing rooms on the upper floor for clothing and valuables.

The flames spread with lightning-like rapidity and the intensity of the heat prevented the firemen from getting within fighting range of the building until rescue was impossible. Women and girls too weak to walk were carried out by the unknown

Washington Men Think Repeal of Arms Law Would Help

QUIET PREVAILS TODAY

Warships in the Mexican Waters Report Order Restored at Tuxpam and in Several Other Mexican Towns.

Washington, July 23.—Repeal of the neutrality proclamation prohibiting exportation of arms in Mexico is being considered as the next step in the Mexican situation. Conferences with President Wilson and congressional leaders were planned today for a discussion of the proposal to which many leaders have given their approval.

While official statements were lacking today as to what support President Wilson has given to the project, a partial canvass of the House and Senate foreign affairs committee today led those interested in the move to believe that the prohibition against shipments of arms could be repealed with little delay.

It is understood to be the belief of administration officials that should free exportation of arms be permitted to all factions in Mexico the present situation might adjust itself. The constitutionalists have repeatedly claimed that lack of arms was the only bar to quick victory.

The repeal is proposed on the ground that there is no recognized government in Mexico and that when the prohibition was enacted a regularly constituted government, recognized officially by the United States was in existence.

Assistant Secretary Roosevelt of the navy today called upon Rear Admiral Cowley at Guaymas to investigate the report that Thomas Lind, assistant general superintendent of the Southern railway of Mexico is held for ransom by Mexican federalists there.

The state department was without information on the incident.

The supply ship Buffalo has gone from Guaymas to Topolobampo and reported conditions quiet at the latter port and the battleship Louisiana which went to Tuxpam, has returned to Vera Cruz. This latter movement leads navy department officials to conclude that a measure of order has been restored at Tuxpam, relieving Americans of danger they were in when the battleship was sent there.

HERR IS NOT KNOWN HERE

Diligent inquiry conducted by the Advocate Tuesday and Wednesday failed to locate any trace of H. C. Herr or A. C. Kerr, variously spelled, said to be Newark citizen who with his family is reported imperiled at Madera, Mexico.

City and telephone directories revealed no such name as Herr, while at the postoffice the city directories of Newark, O., and Newark, N. J., were checked. The name Herr was found only once in Newark, N. J. Records of the county treasurer's office also were gone through.

An inquiry among persons by the name of Kerr brought no light on identity of the man in Mexico. Press dispatches to the Advocate say the man who claims Newark as his home, is manager of the Medera mills, and that he and his family are among the members of an American colony in grave danger from attacks of the revolutionists.

DON'T KNOW WHAT TO DO WITH HARRY

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Sacramento, Cal., July 23.—Harry Olson, the widely widespread dissemination of the deadly typhoid bacilli has resulted in the death of 18 of his fellow seamen, is to be turned out of the federal marine hospital at San Francisco because the state of California won't pay his board bill, it became known today.

Olsen has been kept isolated for more than a year at the expense of the National hospital, but now the government authorities refuse to bear the cost of his maintenance any longer.

What to do with Olsen, who has been a menace to the health of others, is a problem yet to be determined.

The Continuation of the Power of the Romanoff Dynasty Dependent on the Life of the Sickly Czarevitch

The perpetuation of the power of the most powerful royal family on the face of the earth, the Romanoffs, rulers of Russia, is dependent on the life of the little czarevitch, who is very sickly. All the other children of the czar are girls, and are by law barred from the throne. This is the first photograph of the Russian royal family taken in several years, and it is one of the few permitted to the little czarevitch. A year ago he met with a mysterious accident, and since then it has been necessary most of the time for an attendant to carry him about. Nothing has been done to satisfy the public as to the character of the accident. The royal family has been very secretive about it.

Summit County Will Join In Prosecuting the Forgers; Cox Plans I. & R. Protection

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Columbus, July 23.—Governor Cox will leave for Cleveland this afternoon to confer with Mayor Baker and County Prosecutor Locher concerning the alleged fraudulent methods of signing signatures on petitions for a referendum on the Green act.

Although the governor did not disclose details of the proposed conference, it is said at the state house that "the governors conference is expected to result in weaving a web around some of the higher-ups."

Democratic State Chairman Finley stated today that the warrant for the arrest of Samuel Heimlich, of Cleveland on a charge of perjury, had been withdrawn. The warrant was issued after a Chinotto man had declared his name had been forged to a referendum petition. Later state officials said that the man had his memory refreshed and recalled his act of signing the petition.

Another warrant will probably be issued for Heimlich's arrest.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Akron, O., July 23.—Special Counsel Dow Harter of the Attorney General's department, who returned from Columbus this morning, where he instructed petitioners seeking a referendum election of the Green act from Summit, Lorain, Stark and Medina counties stated this morning that he believes most of the fraudulent signatures to petitions in the four counties will be found on those filed from Medina county. There are also a few discrepancies in the Summit county petitions and he announced that a warrant would also be filed in Summit county for the arrest of C. R. McCaslin, who is wanted on an affidavit charging perjury issued by Prosecutor Locher of Cuyahoga county. Harter will make a thorough inspection of the petitions sent in from the four counties for the attorney general.

Cox will also announce that Governor Cox will recommend legislation at the next session of the legislature to protect the initiative and referendum petitions filed in Ohio.

While arrests of many men alleged to have been active in securing signatures by fraudulent methods are being made throughout the state, the end of the investigation is not yet in sight, according to state officials.

Attorney General Hogan and Governor Cox were in conference today, discussing new leads in the investigation.

Irvin Young, auditor of Knox county, called at the secretary of state's office today and searched through the petitions filed from his county. He will carry a number of names home with him with a view to ascertaining their validity. C. H. Wilcox of Cincinnati stated this morning that he be-

Court of Appeals Holds That State Has No Right to Lease Property at Buckeye Lake

Should decision of the Court of Appeals, filed here Wednesday, be upheld, holders of land in the "borrow pits" along the bank of Buckeye Lake, who obtained their land by lease from the state, are at liberty to lease tenants occupying the land by lease from the state. The opinion filed by Judge L. K. Powell of Mt. Pleasant is to the effect that the state has no title to the lands described. The cases at bar are those of Isaac Jones vs. William P. Myers and Jas. T. Haynes, plaintiff and defendants, respectively, being represented by Attorneys Kubler & Kibler and Flory & Flory. These two cases were appealed from decision of the court of Common Pleas which found in favor of Myers and Haynes.

Jones claims title to 43 acres situated along the bank. The northwest bank of the lake runs across the tract northeast and southwest. Adjoining the bank on the northwest are the borrow pits, from which earth was dug to form the retaining embankments. These pits vary in width with an average of 100 to 125 feet. Jones claims the land by patent from the government and the defendants, Myers and Haynes claim it either by act of congress, May 24, 1828, or by act of the state legislature of February 4, 1825, providing for establishment of the lake and canal system.

Referring to this the court says: "The evidence shows that the canal system was completed sometime in 1822, the date of the patent for the lands described is April 1, 1813, so that it is a contest between the two titles emanating from the government as to which involves the better right to the premises involved in this action, under the respective titles thus claimed. Buckeye Lake, formerly the Licking reservoir, is a part of the canal system of Ohio, and although it is now dedicated as a public park for the benefit of the citizens of the state, it was originally constructed as a part of that system."

The finding declares there is no evidence to show that the state acquired the property by the act of congress, and that if it was acquired by act of the state legislature then it was done before the land was patented, and while it was in possession of the general government. This, says the court, could not be done.

On this line of reasoning the court orders the injunction obtained by Jones perpetuated and finds for the plaintiff. The court holds, however, that land actually occupied by the state is conceded still to be property of the state.

It is likely that a further appeal will be sought. Many leases completed by summer cottages would be invalidated under this ruling, it is said.

Claim Mother Perjures Self to Allow 13-Year-Old Girl to Wed Man Twice Her Age

In order to marry off her daughter who is 13 years old, according to Probate court records, Alice Miles of near Hanover, wife of William Miles, a laborer, swore the girl was 18 years old. Such is the charge against Mrs. Miles who was placed in the county jail Tuesday night to await hearing Wednesday before Judge Robbins Hunter sitting as Juvenile court.

Records of the court show that a license was issued on June 21 to Lewis Dell Priest, aged 26, farmer, of Hanover, and Lucinda Katherine Miles, who gave her age as 18. The matter was brought to the attention of the court through persons who profess to be aware that the girl is not of marriageable age.

Court attaches say young Priest and his girl wife have been making their home with relatives by the name of Kissel in Tenth street Newark, and that they had planned to start housekeeping for themselves Wednesday.

Parents of the girl were arrested late Tuesday by Juvenile Officer John Dwyer and Constable Shepard of Hanover, and were brought to Newark through a ruse to the effect that there was some error in papers returned to the marriage license clerk. The mother of the girl was found at the cottage of the Miles family near the Hanover brick yard, and the father was found at work in the Everett stone quarry.

Mrs. Miles is said to have admitted that the girl is not 18 years of age, as sworn to at the time the license was issued, and now, say court attaches, the mother declares the girl is 16 years old.

The Miles family appeared in court Wednesday but Judge Hunter continued the case to Thursday pending further investigation. Meanwhile, the girl, who had been placed in charge of Juvenile Officer Mary Miller, was allowed to go to the home of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Miles was detained in jail, but her husband was released.

SOUGHT CURE FOR SCORE OF YEARS

UNFORTUNATE WOMAN RESORTED TO EVERY MEANS ENDEAVORING TO REGAIN HEALTH.

DREADED OPERATION FAILS.

Patience Now Speaks in Surprise of Cure Made by the United Doctors.

Seeking in vain for a cure a score of years before finding the cure, sought relief from her illness such as the experience of Mrs. D. R. Duncan of No. 50 Hedges street, Dayton, Ohio, who found her reward for her persistence at the United Doctors' institute (those specialists who have their famous Newark institute on the second floor of the Arcade building the entrance being in the Arcade).

"As long as I can remember I have suffered from backache, nervous troubles and about every other distressing symptom that a woman is heir to," says Mrs. Duncan. "I have had an operation removing part of my anatomy and was requested to go to a hospital again for another operation. I could not bear to think of this and having often heard of the great work being done by the United Doctors with their non-surgical system of medicine I decided I would see what they could do for me."

"One month of the United Doctors' surprising treatment relieved me of all distress and I can do my own housework, including my washing, and can work in fact as I was never able to before."

The above statement reveals the old story of a sufferer relieved or cured after everything else had failed. It proves again that a curative surgery can do no better than by going immediately to the United Doctors.

The United Doctors treat numerous ailments, chronic and deep-seated diseases of the nerves, blood, heart, liver, kidneys, bladder, spine, brain, including rheumatism, gall stones, epilepsy, paralysis, indigestion, constipation, neuralgia, loss of nerve force, eczema, dropsy, catarrh, deafness, rupture, dyspepsia and diseases of women and diseases of men.

The United Doctors Newark institute occupies suites 39 and 40 on the second floor of the Arcade building, the entrance to their offices is just inside the Arcade entrance.

CROWDS ATTRACTED BY MAIDEN TAKING HER MORNING BATH

Innocent Young Woman Can Be Seen in Shop Window of Prominent Newark Store.

"Stand back men, give her air! Don't crowd too close!" and similar expressions may be heard in front of a downtown shop window where the dealer has dared the conventionalities and has placed on exhibition copies of the picture "A September Morn'g."

This picture has raised a storm of protests all over the country and in many cities its exhibition has been made the subject of police interference.

"A September Morn'g" is an art production in the nude. From a woman's point of view it isn't so "much" but it is presumed that the "temperament" which usually goes with art of any kind, may explain the enthusiasm over the picture.

In this work of art, the painter has surprised a maiden taking her morning bath. He certainly happened on the spot at an opportune moment and "Miss September Morn'g" didn't have time to grab her slit skirt or her diaphanous duds before the flying brushes of the artist had smeared her simply figure on the canvas.

Thus far in protest has been made regarding the exhibition of the picture here but it is possible that the fact that the merchant placed it in an obscure corner of his window may account for the failure of some of the more prudish to set up a howl.

SUES FOR STERILIZATION.

Lunatic Who Recovered Reason Asks $10,000 Damages.

Appleton, Wis.—Mayor J. V. Canavan, who was formerly county physician, has been made defendant in a $10,000 damage suit brought against George R. Downer, superintendent of the Outagamie County Asylum for the Insane, by Victor Reiner, as guardian of John Repefeldt, the subject of a sterilization operation.

It is charged that Repefeldt was operated on while an inmate of the asylum two years ago. Unsuccessful efforts were made to have the superintendent, Downer, tell who performed the operation. Repefeldt is now out of the hospital, having regained his mentality and is able to support his family.

The case is without precedent and is being followed with keen interest in numerous states where laws legalizing sterilization are under consideration.

PRES. WILLARD IS INSPECTING B. & O. PROPERTY

President Daniel Willard of the Baltimore and Ohio Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton System, is making an inspection of these railroad properties which will require about two weeks to complete. With Mr. Willard are Vice President A. W. Thompson, chief operating officer; F. L. Stuart, chief engineer; and F. H. Clark, general superintendent of motive power. C. W. Calloway, general manager of the B. and O. lines, and W. C. Loree, general manager of the B. and O. S-W. and C. H. and D. lines, are accompanying the inspection party while in their respective territories.

The B. & O. railroad just having completed the biggest year in its history with respect to gross earnings, which for the 12 months ended were $1,000,000, is now among the five leading roads of the country making over one hundred million in gross. The inspection is being made for the purpose of outlining the policy of the company for the ensuing year and determining upon the most efficient methods of handling the traffic with every possible dispatch.

The officials express themselves as pleased with the condition of the properties. With the track improvements which were completed during the year just closed and the addition of new equipment of all classes, the Baltimore and Ohio-Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton System will undoubtedly make an equally creditable showing in the next twelve months.

Jay Cooper, who with his wife is enjoying a vacation at Mackinac Island writes that he is getting the Advocate daily and says that it certainly is fine to get news from home and keep informed of daily happenings and that there is nothing half as good as having the Advocate follow you on a vacation. Mr. Cooper enclosed a photo of a fish he landed at the Les Chaneaux Islands, it being a mammoth one. In a post script he adds: "If Bill Broome could only have seen me land this monster he would have dropped dead with envy. Tell him that I know he is some fisherman but he doesn't know what pleasure it is to land the thirty and forty pound boys."

SUMMIT COUNTY

GOVERNOR THINKS FRAUD COMMITTED ON NEWSPAPER ACT

Columbus, July 23.—No certificate of character is forthcoming from Governor Cox for A. B. Lea of Cleveland, who recently demanded of the governor that he publicly retract statements he had made relative to Mr. Lea's connection with the referendum fraud scandal. In answer to Mr. Lea's letter, the governor charges that questionable methods were employed in securing signatures to Mr. Lea's initiated bill to restrict newspaper publications and says that though he may be shown to be without blame in connection with the frauds on the workmen's compensation referendum, he will have to wait for a "certificate of character."

The governor also calls attention of Mr. Lea to the fact that the only persons under suspicion in connection with the referendum fraud on the compensation bill, who have admitted having worked also in securing signatures to initiate the newspaper act, state that they were employed by Mr. Lea. That notorious characters now under arrest at Cincinnati on missing, in connection with the workmen's compensation referendum, also worked in securing signatures to the newspaper bill and "the same methods manifestly were followed in both projects of fraud," the governor tells Mr. Lea. He calls the newspaper bill, initiated by Mr. Lea a "companion in iniquity" with the compensation bill scandal. Calling Mr. Lea the "adopted father" of the newspaper bill, the governor tells him that if the law permit, he and the hired men of the Equity association will have to disclose the persons who contributed the money "which has made this disgrace to the state possible." The governor also tells Mr. Lea that the same interests, undoubtedly, were behind the newspaper law and the referendum on the compensation act.

Governor Cox explains in detail how he came to connect Mr. Lea with the referendum frauds on the compensation law. He says that Ralph Lipscomb of Newark, who made the first confession of fraud, said that he had met Mr. Lea and members of the Equity association in Columbus. That after he had circulated petitions in Newark he received a telephone call from Cleveland directing him to meet a Mr. Smith, who was coming to Newark to get the petitions. A description of the Mr. Smith was given. Mr. Lea, says Lipscomb, was the man who came and got the petitions.

MARRIED TO THE LEADING MAN OF RELIANCE CO.

Evelyn Francis, Whose Sad Death Occurred Sunday, Married in New Jersey on Decoration Day.

Death is sad under all circumstances but when a young wife and mother is called in the early bloom of youth it is doubly so. Evelyn Francis, daughter of Mrs. Milo Francis and sister of Mrs. Robert White of this city, who died suddenly in New York City Sunday at noon, was married in Jersey City on Decoration Day to Mr. Irving Cummings, leading man of the Reliance Film Co., of New York and whose pictures have been shown here at one of the local theaters, where they are always in great demand.

A pretty romance is connected with the story of the marriage of the beautiful Newark girl with the handsome young New Yorker, a tale of love, devotion and happiness, lasting but too brief a period, and then the stalking through the happy threshold of the grim reaper, leaving in his wake sadness and desolation and the blighting of a happy home.

Irving Cummings first met Evelyn Francis when the latter was playing leading roles with the Monarch company over a year ago. Their first meeting was in the studio arranged for a picture in which the young man had the leading role. Their acquaintance ripened into friendship, then love which was followed by marriage, only a few intimate friends being aware of the fact, including the managers of the Reliance company, it being kept partly secret for professional reasons. Mr. and Mrs. Cummings attended a moving picture show Friday evening and the latter was taken sick with acute indigestion early Saturday morning. The best physicians and specialists in the city were called but without avail and Mrs. Cummings passed peacefully away Sunday at noon, her death being painless, sleeping away like a child.

The body was accompanied to this city by the bereaved husband and a devoted mother, Mrs. Francis, who had left for New York when she received notice that her daughter was critically ill and a little daughter, Evelyn Francis Perin, a former marriage. The funeral occurred from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert White in West Church street and interment was made in Cedar Hill cemetery. The floral offerings were profuse and beautiful, among them being an elaborate set piece of the Reliance Film company trade mark, sent from New York and a handsome emblem from the local lodge of Elks.

The bereaved husband will leave for New York this evening where he will again take up his work made necessary by the fact that his company is ready to release one of their latest films and if it is not released on date promised they are under bond to pay a big bonus for every day lost by non-fulfillment of contract.

Mr. Cummings was the leading man with Lillian Russell when she was starring with "In Search of a Sinner," and was the youngest leading man ever supporting the noted beauty. He is not unknown in this city having appeared at the Auditorium in "The Man of the Hour," and "Texas," making a splendid impression in both plays.

The Reliance Film company have the rights for taking the pictures this season of the World's series championship baseball games and they will later be shown in this city.

The last picture in which Mrs. Cummings participated was "The Women Who Knew," and it was shown in this city July 4, and will be remembered by hundreds of people who saw it, attracted to the theatre by the fact that a Newark girl was one of the principal characters.

The bereaved young husband and the sorrowing mother and sister have the heartfelt sympathy of their many friends in their great affliction.

WHITE SLAVERY

B. & O. Engineer Is Alleged to Have Brought 17-Year-Old Cousin to This City From McMechen.

(Associated Press Telegram) Wheeling, W. Va., July 23.—Two white slavery cases have developed locally within the week and will shortly be given hearings before United States Commissioner George E. Boyd. The first hearing will be held Thursday, when the charges against William Welch, a B. & O. engineer, will be aired. He is charged with taking his 17-year-old cousin, Mary Forbes, of McMechen, to Newark, O.

The arrest in the case was made Sunday morning by Marshal Elzie A. J. Jones at the instigation of the father, James Forbes. All the parties are of McMechen. There was no hearing in the case Monday as was erroneously published in a trust paper.

Mike Cudlin, a Martins Ferry foreigner, is being held at the county jail on a white slavery charge brought by his wife, Rosa. He will not be given a hearing before Commissioner Boyd until next week.

According to the woman she was brought from Huntington to Martins Ferry, where her husband sold her to another foreigner for $4.50. Later she went back to her husband and he brought her to this side of the river, placing her in a house of ill-fame, she alleges.

ANOTHER PLAY GROUND OPENED

Newark should be called the "City of Playgrounds." This afternoon the Riverside playground opened with about 100 rollicking youngsters on the grounds.

This district is thickly populated with foreigners and formerly the children were with practically no field of recreation except the streets. The Federation of Women's clubs in co-operation with the Y. W. C. A. took the proposition before the board of education with the result that they were given the privilege of equipping the yard of the Riverside School in Case avenue as a playground for the children of that vicinity.

A sand pile is the only present equipment but swings and other apparatus will soon be added. Miss Ruth Lee of Detroit has taken charge of the playground and is organizing a kindergarten among the foreign children.

Facts to Remember

The coming primary elections for township and municipal officers will be held the present year on Tuesday, September 2.

Nominations by primary election this year will only be made in townships and municipalities of 2000 and over of population. Those in Licking county are Newark city and township and Granville and Washington townships.

Candidates therein for township trustees, assessors, treasurer and school board must file their petitions on or before August 2. They must be signed by 2 per cent. of the party voters in such municipality, township, ward or other political subdivision for which such nominations are to be made, the vote for Governor at the preceding election being the basis.

All candidates for elective office in any township or municipality of less than two thousand population can only be nominated by petitions signed in the aggregate, for each candidate, by not less than twenty-five qualified electors of the township or municipality. Such petitions must be filed with the Board of Deputy State Supervisors of Elections of the County not less than sixty days previous to the day of the November election.

VILE METHODS

Governor Cox's action in the case of Mayor Smith of Washington, C. H., is widely approved by conscientious people. In throwing out the case which was brought before him, the Governor said:

"Careful consideration has been given to the charges submitted by the Law and Order League of Washington, C. H., against Harvey W. Smith, mayor. The circumstances surrounding the whole case have been gone into thoroughly. Upon information submitted in writing by the attorneys of the Law and Order League at my request, it is admitted that this is an affair of entrapment, that a female detective was employed to induce Mayor Smith to accompany her to a house conducted for immoral purposes, and when the evidence of guilt was completed, police officers familiar with the plot raided the place.

"I know of no official act of delinquency that is comparable in the moral scale to the depravity which marked the entrapment of the public officer in question.

"In the assumed name of an Ohio community, and in behalf of the purity of the place, the person of a woman was prostituted that the ends of justice might be served.

"The executive department of this commonwealth, would it seems to me, depart from the dignity and spirit of our institutions by giving any recognition whatsoever to a procedure as indefensible as this."

ON SECOND THOUGHT

A woman will forgive a man anything except a disinclination to marry her.

In this country the only man entirely free to express his opinion is the one who has neither money, a job, nor a business of his own.

"What do you know?" Buck Kilby asked Jim Rowley the other day. "Well," Jim replied, "I don't know anything to speak of, but I could entertain you indefinitely."

The woman agree that a widower may marry again, provided he waits ten years and then picks out a wife near his own age.

A man's favorite day dream is that a long lost relative has died, leaving him a lot of money.

Probably the most difficult feat is that of raising a young turkey to maturity.

When a man goes to hell a subscription paper is circulated for the purpose of raising money to buy him a return trip ticket. But when a woman goes to hell nothing is done about it.

Uncle Walt's Philosophy

Peace to His Ashes.

The grave grass is growing o'er Luther McCarty, whose shining career was the talk of the land; a blip on the neck from a Polysome party extinguished the light of this pugilist grand. He stood in the ring in the pride of his muscle, unconquered, triumphant, his surname was Itex; and after one minute of action and tussle, the doctors were saying: "He's cashed in his checks." Now where are his dreams of the opulent purses, his visions of triumphs, admirers around? All some — they are some where the sable suited hearse are bearing dead men to their homes in the ground. Oh, ye who are mighty and brave and hearty, who hope in the ring to accomplish a fame, consider the passing of Luther McCarty, the bolt that destroyed him, and sidestepped the game! Stay home on the arm, far away from the riot and toil with the pitcher, an excellent tool, for there you may dwell in contentment and quiet, till some day you're kicked through a fence by a mule. Stay home in your village, intelligent voter, and gather the henfruit and play with the dog, until you're run down by a plutocrat's motor, and carried away on a door to the morgue. Let visions of ringerat and swats be rejected—just think of McCarty, all silent and dead! And may be some day, when it's most unexpected, a shotgun unloaded will blow off your head.

Wisdom from Washington

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, July 23.—[Special.]—One thing at a time seems good enough for the Democratic party, although there are reminders from time to time that the last platform made many promises. Only recently one of the new Democratic members introduced a resolution reciting a few of the pledges of the party, among which were tariff, currency, regulation of monopolies, regulation of interstate carriers and financial institutions, defining the policy toward conservation of all resources both in the United States and Alaska, legislation affecting labor, agriculture, the Indians, Philippines and other equally important matters.

What was sought by reciting these facts was to have an investigation of the individuals, corporations and interests adverse to legislation which has been promised. That would be quite a job, and it might be well, however, to turn the matter over to the committee of the house, which has nothing better to do than to follow in the wake of the senate lobby investigation.

Promises Postponed.

But platform pledges are always subject to postponement. There never was a party that undertook to put into legislation all that was in the platform. Don't we remember that Roosevelt used to outline in any one of a half dozen messages enough work to keep congress constantly on the jump for five or six years, although there would be only a few months of the session ahead?

But the main fact, which is apparent, no matter which party is in power, is that the congressional leaders shape situations so as to prevent much of the proposed legislation. The less the better is their idea.

Campaign in Alabama.

Here in Washington there are echoes of a fierce contest down in Alabama, but even here the echoes are faint. Congressman Hobson is battling for the seat held by Senator Johnston. Hobson has time to campaign the state. Johnston stays in Washington, where the narrow majority of his party makes it necessary in the days of quorum hunting.

Hobson has on his side an intense prohibition record, and he is also a woman suffragist, although it is said that cuts both ways in Alabama. Some way the old time Alabama men believe that an ex-Confederate soldier, a good campaigner and a good mixer, such as Johnston, will be able to pull through in spite of the fight being waged against him by the gifted Hobson.

The Time of His Life.

"Jim Reed is having the time of his life," remarked a man who watched the Mulhall disclosures. Reed took up the whole question of Mulhall's vast collection of papers and put them all in the Record, reading such salient points as he thought should be brought out. It took a lot of work, but Reed thought it was worth the effort.

The Safest Place.

Congressman Dredrick of Massachusetts has been staying right on the job in Washington, save for a short trip home. And then he found Washington was the safest place after all. The office seekers swarmed down on him at home and everybody else who thought the new Democratic administration would give almost anything to a young Democrat who represented a Republican district for the first time in thirty years.

Monongahela Again.

Senator Goff of West Virginia introduced a bill authorizing the construction of a bridge across the Monongahela river, which recalls a remark by Colonel Pete Hepburn when he was chairman of the commerce committee. "These are bills to allow bridges across the Monongahela river," said Hepburn to the house. "For twenty years we have been passing bills to bridge the Monongahela, and while I am not familiar with that stream, judging from the bridge bills passed, it must be crossed from one end to the other by bridges." But it appears that Goff found an agent.

HEALTH HINT FOR TODAY.

Sleeping in Hot Weather.

Nothing so fortifies one against hot weather as a good night's sleep, and for lots of people nothing is harder to get. If you haven't taken a reasonable amount of exercise perhaps you don't deserve much sleep. If you are troubled with indigestion eat a light fruit supper or omit supper entirely. If your room or your bed is hot or if you are too warm to go to sleep quickly on a hot night take a cool bath just before retiring. A tub bath is excellent, but a cold rubdown with a cloth or sponge is almost as good. After thus becoming thoroughly cleansed and cooled by such a bath, it is comparatively easy to get a good night's sleep in spite of the hot weather.

The Human Procession

America's greatest Catholic churchman, James Cardinal Gibbons, will begin his eightieth year today, and hundreds of congratulatory messages from all over the world will be showered upon the venerable religious leader. Despite his great age, the Cardinal continues to manifest a keen interest in everything that goes on in the world, and to be bold and outspoken in the expression of his opinions. Socialism and suffrage and sin are "the three S's" of the Cardinal's abomination.

James Gibbons was born in Baltimore, July 23, 1834, and at an early age was taken by his parents to their former home in the Emerald Isle, where he received his early education. At fourteen he returned to America, and lived some years in New Orleans before returning to his native state to study for the priesthood at St. Charles' college and at St. Mary's Seminary in Baltimore. He was ordained in 1861, and ever since has resided in Baltimore, and, in 1886, to membership in the Sacred College.

Attorney General James Clark McReynolds, the only bachelor in President Wilson's cabinet, will celebrate his fifty-first birthday today. Matrimonially speaking, his case seems hopeless, but those notorious tattlers, the little birds, have been whispering—well, never mind. "His none of our business. The attorney general has had more than his share of troubles and criticism since he became chief of Uncle Sam's department of justice, which is only just and proper, as he has no milliners' grocers, dressmakers' and butchers' bills to distract his mind. Mr. McReynolds was born at Elkton, Ky., July 23, 1862, and was educated at Vanderbilt University and the law department of the University of Virginia. Although a Democrat, he was appointed assistant attorney general by Roosevelt. He practiced law in New York for a year before returning to Washington in response to President Wilson's call.

James Speyer, head of the American branch of the famous international banking house, passes his fifty-second milestone today. Born in New York, he was educated at Frankfurt-on-the-Main, Germany and at twenty-two began his financial career in the family's bank in that city. Later he served in the London and Paris branches before returning to his native city to take charge of the New York house. Mr. Speyer was recently decorated by the German Emperor, and his brother, Sir Edgar Speyer, head of the London house, was knighted by King Edward. The banker is prominent in Jewish and other charities, and has been a leader in the efforts to promote more cordial relations between the United States and Germany.

"Big Tim" Sullivan, the famous Tammany politician who has lately suffered a severe illness, was born fifty years ago today. He began his career as a newsboy in New York, then became a printer's "devil," entered politics and became a district leader, went to the New York state legislature seven times, then to the state senate, and finally to the United States congress. The head of the Sullivan is an interesting survival of that political feudalism that long flourished in New York, under the sheltering wing of Tammany. The Hon. Timothy is supposed to have amassed a fortune through his theatrical and other enterprises.

This hike to Buckeye Lake will cover the period of two days. The party will camp out at the lake tonight. A large tent for the girls and dog tents for the boys were forwarded to the site of the camp and all the pedestrians have to do when they arrive is to pitch the tents and the rest of the day is free.

No special program had been arranged after arriving at the lake and the time will be divided between the boats and games. The most attractive of the program will be the big swim at the bathing beach.

The hikers will start back at 6:30 Thursday morning.

HOME RULE CHARTER LOST AT YOUNGSTOWN WINS IN LAKEWOOD.

(Associated Press Telegram) Youngstown, July 23.—The home rule charter was defeated at the special election yesterday by a vote of 5984 to 2983. About half of the registered voters went to the polls.

The proposed charter provided for the city manager plan of government. The manager was to have been selected by the councilmen, who would be elected from wards as in the present form of government.

Cleveland, July 23.—By a vote of 762 to 596, the citizens of Lakewood, a suburb, adopted a home-rule charter. One-third of the registered voters cast ballots.

The charter provides for a mayor and city council to be elected and a city manager to be appointed by the council.

GIRLS PLAY BALL AT "KILLKARE"

Camp Killkare situated among the woods on the Ohio Electric railway rivals many summer resorts for beauty. This beautiful camp is the home of the local Y. W. C. A. during the summer and is the center of attraction to all the members of the Y. W. C. A. who spend much of their time at this scenic spot.

About ten is the average attendance during the week, but on holidays and on Sundays members flock to the place in droves. Contrary to the opinion of some, the quarters is the home of Miss Anna White from whom the house was leased for the summer.

In the afternoon many take the Hebron car and stop at the camp, which is five miles from the city. Here they enjoy games, boating on the south fork of the Licking river and all the pleasures of the natural swimming pool in which some of the girls are splashing most of the day.

The feature of this week at the camp will be a bean bake in the woods adjoining the camp. Saturday afternoon those assembled will hike into the woods and bake beans in specially arranged ovens in the ground. The largest crowd of the season is expected and the members are living in joyous expectations of the coming event.

Among the games played is the exceedingly masculine game of base ball. This seems to be the most popular with the young ladies and with the form they are developing they should soon be soliciting engagements with outside teams. Basket ball and hand ball are also popular.

Some anxiety has been felt at the camp and at the local quarters of the Y. W. C. A. for Miss Adelaide Bailey, who is thought to have been in the accident on the C. D. & M. railroad near Delaware. Miss Bailey is a member of the Y. W. C. A. and has been spending the summer in this city canvassing encyclopedias and her presence was expected at the camp on the day of the accident.

No word has been received from her as yet. Her name did not appear among the list of the injured. Saturdays and Thursdays are open days at the camp and visitors are cordially invited.

RESIGNATION OF INFIRMARY OFFICIALS

County commissioners in session late Wednesday received three resignations affecting administration of the Licking County Infirmary, and successors were immediately appointed.

Superintendent W. H. Pound and his wife, Luella Pound, matron, both resigned, as did the county physician, Dr. O. M. Kramer of Hebron, who goes to Columbus early next month to become chief physician at the penitentiary.

Charles Poundstone as superintendent and Carrie Bell Poundstone as matron, were appointed to succeed the Pounds August 15. Dr. Carl J. Dillon of Newark was appointed to succeed Dr. Kramer on August 1.

Commissioners issued an order to the effect that county cases in the city hospital and Newark Sanitarium must be attended by the county physician. Commissioners intimate that bills from other sources have been too heavy.

Lion and Locomotive. A construction train was puffing along with a heavy load of material near Gwelo, when a full grown lion was sighted stretched right across the line and basking peacefully in the sun. In reply to the whistle of the engine the brute looked up lazily, but did not attempt to move. The efforts of the driver and the stoker to drive him off the line by pelting him with bullets of wood were no better rewarded. The train was on the point of coming to a standstill when the lion lost his temper. He took a sudden spring at the engine, seeking in vain for something on its smooth surface into which he could drive his claws and thus secure a foothold. Again and again the beast sprang, falling clear of the engine every time. The driver then realized that the best thing to do was to go full steam ahead and trust to the weight of the trucks behind the train on the line to clear the lion from its path. This was done, with the result that the lion, a magnificent specimen, was cut to pieces by the engine wheels. —"Cape to Cairo Railway" in Empire Magazine.

Rest Before Eating. In the first place, never come to table with a mind full of worries and troubles or in an irritable state of temper, nor, again, should you attempt to eat when very fatigued. Both these states tend to diminish the blood supply to the digestive organs and therefore to hinder digestion. Do not read or study when eating, but also do not sit glumly silent. A little pleasant conversation is helpful and prevents one getting into the obnoxious and dangerous habit of bolting one's food. Masticate your food thoroughly. The preservation of the teeth depends largely on the use or misuse of them at meal times. To maintain them in health and strength they must be given plenty of work to do. Also in order that your meals may be properly digested they must be well masticated. Especially is this necessary in the case of farinaceous or starchy foods. —"Health in Business."

Jade. Jade is regarded by the Chinese as the most precious of precious stones. You can buy a small piece in white for $10, but a similar specimen in emerald green would cost you from $35 to $50. The value of the stone depends on the coloring and especially on transparency, luster and brilliancy of the beautiful emerald green, usually distributed in splashes through the matrix, which may be white or greenish, or even tinted with lavender. Rarely indeed does it occur in sufficient quantity to furnish a large example. Sometimes small pieces are selected to be made into beads of the purest emerald tint, free from those flecks which depreciate their worth. In the sunlight, if you examine such beads, you will find that they approach the emerald in purity of tone. —J. F. Blacker in London Opinion.

Ancient and Modern Mothers

YOU must be glad you are not on earth these days," said the mother of Achilles to the mother of the Gracchi.

"How so?" asked the mother of the Gracchi, somewhat haughtily. She had an idea the mother of Achilles wanted to get in her set, and she wasn't anxious to have her there, for she knew she would do nothing but talk about her son. And when it came to talking about sons, she wished the center of the platform, and the megaphone.

"So much is expected of mothers nowadays," replied the mother of Achilles.

"I don't think I shirked any maternal duty," said the mother of the Gracchi, proudly. "And I think I would do my duty again if necessary."

"Oh, of course. So should I," replied the mother of Achilles, determined to blow her horn quite as loudly as did the mother of the Gracchi. "But I was just thinking it would be somewhat strenuous."

"I don't consider that I had an easy time bringing up my two boys. But, nevertheless, I brought them up, as you know, to be a credit to their country, and—"

"Oh, yes," hastily interrupted the mother of Achilles, not wishing to hear the virtues of the Gracchi extolled. "I have heard of your sons. And I, too, had some work, as you know, with Achilles. He was a headstrong piece. Why, when he was five years old—"

"I don't think mothers nowadays," interrupted the mother of the Gracchi, not caring to hear Achilles' infantile exploits. "Give half of the attention to bringing up their children that we old-fashioned mothers did."

"How can they? That was the very thing I was going to speak about. So much is expected of mothers now. They have to attend Mothers' Congresses and read papers on the Montessori method, and moral suasion and such things. And they have to keep up with the new styles in dress, and with bridge. And they have to play in golf tournaments, and go to the polls and vote for Presidents and councilmen. And they must know all about the chemistry of food, and household sanitation, and how to recognize germs the first time they meet them, and how to live their individual life, and about a million other things. Why when I think what a modern mother has to do, I positively feel limp."

"It's no wonder they don't produce such men as the Gracchi."

"Nor Achilles," murmured his mother.

"They are too diffuse," went on the mother of the Gracchi, not noticing the interruption. "They should concentrate."

"They're told that," said the mother of Achilles. "Everybody nowadays is told to concentrate."

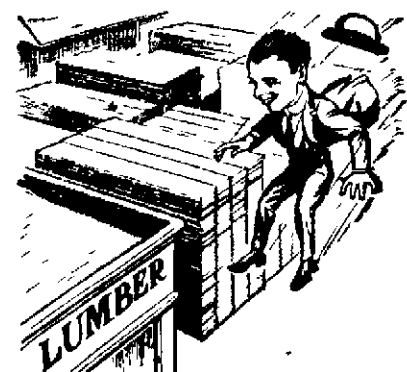

"But how can they concentrate and be diffuse too. It is not in the nature of things, even with modern get-there-before-you-start methods."

"Well, all I can say is I am glad I haven't the job of bringing up Achilles and bringing up myself, too," said the mother of Achilles. "I am glad I made my record several years ago."

"Well," responded the mother of the Gracchi, with dignity. "If I were on earth today, I should still bring up the Gracchi. Methods may have changed somewhat since my day, but results shouldn't."

SAYS GRAY HAIR VANISHES AFTER APPLYING SAGE TEA

A Mixture of Sage and Sulphur Prevents Dandruff and Falling Hair.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur no one can tell, because it's done so naturally; so evenly. It is also splendid to remove dandruff, cure itching scalp and stop falling hair.

Preparing this mixture, though, at home is a messy and troublesome task. For about 50 cents a bottle you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use tonic called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." Some druggists put this mixture up themselves but make it too sticky, so insist you want "Wyeth's" then there will be no disappointment.

You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" and draw it through your hair taking one small strand at a time. Do this at night and by morning all gray hair disappears and after another application or two becomes beautifully darkened and more glossy and luxuriant than ever. You will also discover dandruff is gone and hair has stopped falling.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur and you'll look years younger. Inquiry shows all pharmacists in town here sell lots of it. Hall's Drug Store, 10 N. Side Square, Agent. adv.

GREAT R. R. STRIKE WILL BE AVOIDED

100,000 Men Affected by New Mediation Law.

CONGRESS ACTED HASTILY.

Forty-two Companies Which Would Be Affected Serve 50,000,000 Persons. Territory is East of Mississippi, North of Ohio and South of Canadian Border.

New York.—The situation on forty-two eastern railroads when the members of the Order of Railroad Conductors and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen voted almost unanimously to strike looked most threatening before arrangements to avoid the strike were completed. Preparations were made to unravel the tangle and bring the employers and employees together for a settlement of the differences without the necessity of a general strike.

Had the men struck every railroad in the east would have been tied up, temporarily at least. No provision had been made to move the mails or to haul milk supplies and produce into the crowded cities.

The 100,000 members of the Order of Railroad Conductors and Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen on the eastern systems who voted to strike unless the roads granted their demands have asked for a 20 per cent raise in wages and better working conditions.

Through their conference committee the railroads refused the demands on the ground that the raise would amount to $17,000,000 annually and they can't afford to pay this sum. The employees offered to arbitrate under the Erdman act, but the roads refused until the act was remodeled. This has been done.

Forty-two railroads are affected. They control 48,000 miles of track and include every system traversing the territory east of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio river and Chesapeake and Ohio railroad to the Canadian line. They serve 50,000,000 persons.

When the question of a strike was put to a vote 72,473 declared in favor of leaving the service and 4,210 were recorded as being against such action. Every road ratified the strike vote.

The railroads affected are: Boston and Albany; Boston and Maine; Baltimore and Ohio; Bessemer and Lake Erie; Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh; Buffalo and Susquehanna; Central New England; Central Railroad of New Jersey; Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton; Chicago, Indianapolis and Louisville; Chicago, Indiana and Southern; Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis; Cincinnati Northern; Chicago, Terre Haute and Southeastern; Delaware and Hudson; Delaware, Lackawanna and Western; Detroit, Toledo and Ironton; Erie, Grand Rapids and Indiana; Hocking Valley; Kanawha and Michigan; Lake Shore and Michigan Southern; Lehigh and Hudson River; Long Island; Lake Erie and Western; Maine Central; Michigan Central; New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk; New York, Susquehanna and Western; New York, Chicago and St. Louis; New York Central and Hudson River; New York, New Haven and Hartford; New York, Ontario and Western; Pennsylvania coast of Pittsburgh; Pennsylvania (west of Pittsburgh); Philadelphia and Reading; Rutland, Toledo and Ohio Central; Vandalia; Wheeling and Lake Erie; Western Maryland; Zanesville and Western.

MR. MONTGOMERY DISCUSSES THE PASTURE FIELD

Central Ohio Farmhouse in Having Excellent Pasture—White Clover is Thick.

(By Cary W. Montgomery)
I think through Montgomery (Ohio) are the best pastures this year that I ever noted. Mainly to be accounted for by the little live stock to consume it and the abundance of white clover.

It is a little strange how some farmers look on white clover. I was asking a farmer about pasture who had none what might be called permanent pastures but happened to have a field that had not been plowed for ten years. I asked if it had not improved, said it was better than two years ago. Asked if white clover had not come in this year, yes. Did that not improve the pasture? No, thought stock did not like white clover, would rather have some other kind of grass. The next day I happened to be talking to a farmer that had several hundred acres of permanent pasture. Said he never had such good pastures before. Said the white clover was almost knee high and that he sold some cattle off pasture a few days ago and never had cattle do so well and thought it was due to the white clover.

We have also observed more alkali clover than ever before, but note the alkali does not appear in pasture fields or other places where the seed has not been sown. Alkali does not seem to be natural to the soils of Central Ohio.

We noted quite a patch of sweet clover in a church yard and none in the roadsides nearby. On inquiry, I learned that a few years before they were repairing the church and hauled several miles away. The next year, where the sand had been, sweet clover had appeared and had gradually spread. This may account for sweet clover appearing about buildings and nowhere else in the neighborhood. Comes from the sand and gravel hauled from the river for building purposes.

At the Ohio Experiment Station, in 1910, some rather poor banks of permanent pasture were fertilized and again in 1912 phosphorus improved the pasture. Where phosphorus and potash were combined there is a marked improvement noted where in addition to the phosphorus and potash, lime was added, the change is marvelous, there being a dense mat of white clover, with some red clover here and there. The addition of lime alone has made quite an improvement. No seed was sown on any of the plots.

We have noted more rye this year than before, this doubtless because of the poor yield of wheat last year. I am wondering if farmers as a rule, are handling this crop to the best advantage.

A farmer was telling me he was "head over heels" with work, rye ready to cut and no help. I asked if he was going to sell this rye. No, he would make more out of it to have it "chopped" and make slop out of it for the hogs. Then why not let the hogs chop it? I explained that a farmer, adjoining his township had twenty-five acres of rye that he was going to let the hogs harvest and even a field of wheat, that was some distance from the home, on account of the scarcity of help, he was going to turn the hogs on. But the one farmer was certain that much more pork would be made by grinding and making into slop. Question. How much more pork will a bushel of rye make to be ground and fed as a slop than to let the hogs do the grinding?

At some of the farms we noted the timber will be a scrubby Black Oak, Pin Oak and Jack Oak, while a few miles away the timber will be White Oak, Chestnut, Hickory or Ash, valuable varieties, but whatever variety they will be tall and straight. Anything valuable grows on good land. "Shin" briars grow on poor land. So that, the natural growth is quite an index, to the value of the land.

BARONESS HINTS WOMAN'S LEGS ARE MEANT TO BE SEEN

(Associated Press Telegram)
Paris, July 22.—The new and palatial Champs Elysees theatre, with its Russian ballet and famous prices, is the resort par excellence of chic Paris at present, and when a lady appears in the stalls in sandals and wearing a clinging green Grecian gown, people are inclined to ask how far the latest spasm of fashion will extend.

For the Baroness de Gueulle, and that she had obtained "official recognition" was evident, for she prom-

FAMOUS IN A DAY FOR THE BEAUTY OF HER HANDS AND ARMS

A Free Prescription That Does Its Work. Over 100,000 Cases Prescribed in 10 Years.

"It's my own discovery and it takes just one night to get such marvelous results," answers Camille de Verdel, a French aristocrat, who has seen the marvelous change in the appearance of her hands and arms. "You can do the same thing if you take my advice," she says. "I feel it my duty to tell every woman what this wonderful prescription did for me. Just think of it! It did all this in one night."

"It affords me a world of pleasure to tell anyone else just how such remarkable results were brought about. I give you, absolutely free, the identical prescription which has made me so happy by benefiting my hands and arms. You can form no idea of the marvelous change it will make in just one application. The cream is white and can be prepared at your own home, as follows:

Go to any drug store and get an ounce bottle of Kallux Compound. Pour the entire contents into a two-ounce bottle, add a quarter ounce of which base and fill with water. Mix (this is done at night and morning). The first application will delight you. It gives the skin a velvet softness, obliterates all discolorations such as tan, sun spots, freckles and coarse pores, roughness and in fact every blemish the skin is heir to. It also produces a marvelous effect on the face, neck and shoulders. It is a truly wonderful and soothing and is not affected by perspiration. It will not rub off.

If the neck is discolored from being exposed to the sun or from wearing high collars, this prescription will immediately relieve that condition. No matter how rough and ugly the hands and arms, what abuses they have had through hard work, no matter how dry and cracked the skin from sun and wind, this prescription will work a wonderful transformation. Thousands of women are using this prescription with just the same results that I have had." (Advertisement.)

enaded with the director of the house, M. Gabriel Astruc.

In an interview the Baroness said she hoped all smart Parisiennes would adopt her style of dress.

"Why are women given lovely feet or shapely legs?" she asked. "To hide and crush them out of shape? As for my gown, true, it is only a summer creation and could not be worn in cold weather, but I have a winter surprise in store."

The Baroness intimated that she has received communications from several friends intimating that they long to follow her example and would if they could obtain their husbands' consent.

The French Association for the Advancement of Sciences will meet at Havre in September. It is suggested that while they are in their lion they might consider a lasting favor on humanity by putting their heads together to invent some sure way of keeping a straw hat on the head in a high wind.

This is the 20th anniversary of the birth of Seumas Gerlie, the inventor of ragtime. When Gerlie died, choked to death by one of his own synopsions, he made a brave effort to enter heaven, and was refused only when the Associated Shades of Eminent Musicians, led by Richard Wagner, threatened to walk out in a body if Gerlie was admitted.

CLEAR MYSTERY CHILD'S BURIAL NEAR NASHPORT

All the mystery in regard to the death and burial of the child discovered on the Marshall farm last Wednesday has been cleared up, according to a statement issued by Coroner Walters of Zanesville.

It is rumored that at the inquest the man who interred the body confessed his deed. It is the opinion of the coroner that there was no criminal act committed except that of burying a corpse without a permit and not firing a death certificate.

Dr. Walters testified that he had not yet received the testimony in the case, but that his verdict would be prepared as soon as the stenographer had filed it. The body of the child which has been kept at the Crooks undertaking establishment will be ordered buried shortly.

INCREASE IN FOOD ANIMALS.

Number Killed in United States During the Fiscal Year 1914-1915.

Washington.—Reports to the department of agriculture show that in the fiscal year ended June 30 last 57,628,401 animals were slaughtered under federal inspection in the 700 slaughtering establishments in 225 cities and towns of the United States—an increase of nearly 5,000,000 over the previous fiscal year. Of the animals inspected by government officials in the last fiscal year there were 7,245,585 sheep, 2,277,504 calves, 14,979,534 hogs, 72,871 goats and 33,032,727 hogs. Slaughtering establishments and meat food factories increased from 919 to 940 in the fiscal year.

Chicago, with 12,910,506 animals slaughtered under federal inspection, leads in numbers. The other principal points of federally inspected slaughter are in the following order: Kansas City, 5,646,161; St. Omaha, 4,008,655; New York, 3,034,085; national stock yards East St. Louis, 2,066,292; South St. Joseph, 2,071,443; Boston, 1,828,044; Indianapolis, 1,598,503; Sioux City, 1,529,007; Buffalo, 1,381,271.

The total condemnations at the time of slaughter for disease or other causes numbered 232,597 whole carcasses and 494,328 parts of other carcasses, or a total of 727,015 condemnations. In addition, nearly 18,000,000 pounds of prepared meats and meat products were condemned on reinspection because they had become unwholesome subsequent to the first inspection.

COOK STOVES FOR POOR.

Bequest of $10,000 Fifty-nine Years Ago Will Be Looked Up.

Boston.—A hearing on a petition under the will of Thomas W. Sweetser, who died fifty-nine years ago, will be given in the Essex probate court, when the unusual provision—that of providing the poor of Salem with cook stoves—will be close attention.

The will stipulated that $10,000 be paid to his native city, that this be put on interest at 6 per cent forever and that $600 be spent annually in buying stoves and utensils for the poor if the estate amounted to $30,000 or more.

Trustees to be elected must supervise the administration of a charity and must keep on hand a supply of stoves of different sizes. Then, too, the trustees must keep on hand enough pipes for all the stoves.

If the will was made public fifty-nine years ago no official notice was taken, and the gift was forgotten.

JINX IS DISCOVERED IN GERMAN'S CLOCK

Struck Thirteen on Friday and Brought Much Bad Luck.

Amite City, La.—George Zollenberg returned to his home near this city after another ineffectual attempt to have the jinx taken out of his grandfather's clock. The ancient timepiece is to blame for a long train of misfortunes that started Friday, June 13, 1913. The following details have been supplied by Mr. Zollenberg:

The clock was brought to this country by Mr. Zollenberg from the fatherland. The old time mill had never missed a tick or let a second slip by unrecorded until noon on that fatal Friday. While waiting for dinner Zollenberg was surprised and alarmed to hear the old bedroom strike thirteen times for noon.

"You'd better take that to some clock fender in Hammond," said the watch mender, and he put his hand behind him as though the old timepiece were hot. Zollenberg took the clock to Hammond and, not wishing to hold it fixed under false pretenses, told the jeweler there about its having struck thirteen. Neither of the Hammond clocksmiths would have touched the hoodoo with a fishing pole.

Since then Zollenberg has taken the clock to every expert near here, only to have the job declined. That is not all. Here are a few of the things that have happened since, for which he blames the clock:

His rich mother-in-law departed this life back in Germany without leaving him a red penny.

His valued hen (the one that walks with a limp) deserted her nest after sitting patiently for two and a half weeks on thirteen—there it is again—thoroughbred Cochins eggs.

His hired girl eloped with his best stable hand.

Twelve kittens fell in a well near his home and were drowned.

His brindle cow Bossie gave birth to triplets, all of which were black as coal dust and males.

How to Build Up or Tear Down This Community

The Home Merchant Has Earned Support.

WHY are communities, towns and cities? Have you ever asked yourself this question? Did you think they just happened, or had you ever thought that there was a special need for them? In the beginning of time—as far back as history takes us—we find that MEN HAVE Banded themselves together for many and obvious reasons, such as, among which are the benefits to be gained from organized society, a chief, intellectual, spiritual and commercial center.

Collectively we are strong, forceful and aggressive and possess power and means to attain a growth which will give to us and our progeny opportunities for better living—to develop our moral, spiritual and intellectual life, the things for which we were created.

THEREFORE THE SUCCESS AND HAPPINESS OF EVERY CITIZEN OF ANY COMMUNITY LIES IN THE INTEREST HE TAKES IN THAT COMMUNITY AND THE GOOD WORK HE CAN DO TO ASSIST IN ITS UPBUILDING.

Now, then, if we are to succeed as individuals and as a community we must not only strive for our own personal success and welfare, BUT MUST GIVE OF OUR WORK AND SUBSTANCE UNSELFISHLY TO HELP THE OTHERS.

Everything we do to help in the upbuilding and advancement of our city we do just that much toward our own personal success. No man can live and prosper unto himself alone, FOR WE ARE INTERDEPENDENT, and, realizing this, if we as citizens will all unite and pull together for the common good we will prosper as a city and consequently as individuals.

Well paved streets and sidewalks, good sewerage system, thoroughly enforced sanitary laws, well regulated and energetic police force, competent fire fighting equipment and rigid building regulations are economic necessities and therefore they more largely affect us as a community than as individuals. But beyond this and underlying it all and upon which rests the foundation of the whole is THE SUCCESS OF THE BUSINESS MAN. This man makes an investment, goes into some kind of business—to manufacture or sell goods—puts his money at stake, employs labor and begins his work to build better. THIS MAN IS THE CORNERSTONE OF THE COMMUNITY—the man you should rally around and support.

THE SUCCESS OF A TOWN DEPENDS ON THE SUCCESS OF ITS BUSINESS MEN, WHILE THE SUCCESS OF THE BUSINESS MEN DEPENDS ON, SUPPORT THEY RECEIVE FROM THE PEOPLE AT LARGE, EACH BEING, HOWEVER, DEPENDENT ONE ON THE OTHER.

No merchant can succeed without the patronage of the public. He is absolutely and entirely dependent on the custom of each and every individual who has a penny to spend, the little mite of each, taken in the aggregate, making the volume on which he runs his business. The merchant, having plenty of competition, must, in order to get the people's patronage, figure his prices close and offer to them the very best inducements possible.

The merchant pays large rentals, taxes, privilege licenses, insurance, besides employing many clerks and assistants, in order to maintain and conduct his business in such a manner as to meet your approval, and to succeed let me emphasize it again—HE MUST HAVE YOUR PATRONAGE TO MAKE HIS BUSINESS PAY.

This community has some fine stores—every kind—and conducted by as fine a set of men as you will find anywhere on the face of the globe—liberal, big hearted, progressive men. No better retail stores, no better wholesale or jobbing houses, no better banks, no better mills, no better schools, no better churches, no better municipal or public utilities, can be found anywhere than right here in your home town, all—absolutely all—made possible only by and through the co-operation and generous giving of the business men.

But, my good friends, with all of these extraordinary accomplishments, there are some things being done today which are STUMBLING BLOCKS IN THE PATH OF OUR GREATER GROWTH and further development—differences, if you please, which we must reconcile and overcome if we are to continue to grow and prosper.

To be continued under the title, "HELP YOURSELF BY HELPING YOUR TOWN."

Had Tuberculosis of Glands; Now Well

If you are a sufferer from Glandular Tuberculosis, or know of anyone so afflicted, it might be well to investigate the Eckman's Alternative, a health giving and full recovery to a medicine which has been effective in many cases of Tuberculosis.

"Gentlemen:—In March, 1909, I was taken sick and my doctor pronounced my case 'Tuberculosis of the Glands.' Medical treatment did nothing, and on my doctor's advice, I went to a hospital to be operated upon, but relief was only temporary. I lost strength, and times would have cold sweats and fever. In April, 1910, I returned to the hospital, but the continued operations were not benefiting me.

"In the meantime, a friend of mine advised Eckman's Alternative, saying it was good for Tuberculosis. The wounds in my neck were still open and in a frightful condition when I started to take it. After using two bottles, I found I was improving, having gained weight, could eat, and was able to sleep. I continued using it until it was well, which was in November, 1910. Before I took the medicine, I had three hemorrhages; since I have been taking it, I have not had any. On November 1, 1910, I started to work, and since that time I have not lost one day's work through sickness. I can highly recommend Eckman's Alternative to anyone who is suffering from Tuberculosis of Gland Tissues, providing they take it as directed. I will gladly correspond with any party desiring further information of what the medicine did for me."

(Signed) JOSEPH H. WHITE, Eckman's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat, Lung Troubles, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries and write to Eckman Laboratories, Philadelphia, Pa., for evidence. CO. G BOYS ARE PREPARING FOR MEXICAN CALL

RUMOR THAT NATIONAL GUARD
MIGHT GET OPPORTUNITY TO AID REGULARS.

Interests Newark Soldiers in Camp
on Lake Erie—Boys Find Weather Hot Enough.

Camp Perry, July 23—A gang of section hands at a workhouse tribe couldn't have made away with three meals any quicker than Company G of Newark, when the calls were sounded Tuesday. Morning, noon and night found the boys ravenously hungry, and chiefly because of a sharp workout on the drill field. There was hardly a let-up, and beef roast with thick gravy on the side was devoured with a relish rarely experienced except in other than hard worked military camps.

A burning hot sun beat down on the khaki-clad sons of Newark when they sallied forth upon the battlefield and some of the boys caused streams of perspiration to flow from noble browsed privates and their superiors. The work was the hardest experienced this week by Company G. But news that a call from Washington to hustle to aid in strengthening the situation in Mexico might be sounded at any time gave an otherwise uneventful day a bit of variety that was decidedly pleasing. The boys are here for business and they are getting a firm hold on the fundamentals of warfare. If they are called to Mexico they will be ready for the actual game, sans frills and fancifuls.

Not until last night did the boys really get loose with their camp stunts. Company G was one of the first to inaugurate sports at the expense of some of the "rookies." The gauntlet was run with much annoyance to the man at the warm end of the razor strops, and in addition considerable time was spent in searching for the key to the range clock. Musical groups of all kinds got together for a few spasms of vociferous or instrumental design on Sloop. Newark was there with the "Tattered Quartette" and the selections ranged from "Annie Laurie" to "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," "Break the News to Mother" and "Just as the Sun Went Down." They were dragged from a moss covered sepulcher and perpetrated upon a defenseless set of camp ears.

At the clubhouse, down by the lake, many of the men found food and refreshments last night. They were there from 7 o'clock until nearly time for taps, enjoying Fourth regiment band music and caking in the sights. The lake waters were warm and the swimming was good. Venturing out for hundreds of yards, the men thoroughly enjoyed the water sport.

RANDOM SHOTS.

Letters from home folks at Newark were distributed yesterday and today. Evidently the boys have been well remembered by people back in Licking county, for Chaplain H. H. Miller, who has charge of the Fourth regiment mail, left a large bundle of letters at the Company G sergeant's tent. There are three mails a day—three each way—and the news is swapped regularly and devoured with great interest. There is a big demand for copies of the Advocate.

"We haven't been here but three days, but it seems like a week," remarked one of the Company G boys today. And it's all because there is so much going on around camp. Enough incidents transpire in a couple of days to fill a good sized volume. Every company has its own particular line of work and the schedule is followed to the letter.

There is great rivalry among the company cooks. One old colored chef was bragging this morning about the three kinds of meat that he served "the boys." "That's nothing," yelled a brother from across the street, "we done had five kinds of meat today—ham, lamb, sheep, meat and mutton." There hasn't been a half hundred women at camp this week. Railway connections into Camp Perry are not of the best and there is no boat service direct to this point. Put-in Bay is about nine miles across the water and Lakeside is but a short distance away. Two or three officers contemplate a trip to this point some afternoon the latter part of the week.

The Fourth regiment band hasn't been as liberal as usual with its music this year. The boys like to hear the strains of the latest popular tunes, mixed in with the national tunes. One of the most impressive events of the day in camp is the lowering of the flag at 6:15 o'clock each evening, as the band plays "The Star Spangled Banner." G. G. W.

so further dropped exhausted on the single fire escape in the rear of the building and literally roasted to death, portions of the bodies dropping into the street. Others jumped and were killed.

Half a dozen of the panic stricken girls rushed into the elevator which was standing on the fourth floor. A moment later all dropped to their death. Only the efficiency of the Birmingham Fire Department prevented the spread of the flames to business blocks lining Water street between Court and Henry streets. In the building occupied by the McArthur Drug company was a large amount of highly explosive chemicals. Steel doors and shutters prevented the fire from reaching this building.

NEWARK, OHIO.

TODAY IS TENTH ANNIVERSARY OF NEWARK TRUST CO.

Just ten years ago today the Newark Trust company began doing business under this name on North Third street. Its growth has been steady and almost phenomenal, until today it shows the remarkable record of deposits amounting in round numbers to over $1,750,000. The total assets are about $2,100,000. The policy of the Newark Trust company has been conservatism and at the same time giving the best of service. These two factors have been largely responsible for the splendid showing made in these ten years.

The change to the present location was made in 1907.

This banking home is not only a credit to the company but to the city of Newark and the strength and stability of this great institution counts for much in the prosperity of Newark. The officers are: President, A. H. Heisey; vice presidents, G. C. Metz and W. H. Smith; secretary-treasurer, W. C. Metz; auditor and assistant treasurer, W. C. Christian.

WEATHER DRIVES FOREIGN DIPLOMATS FROM WASHINGTON

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Washington, July 23.—In spite of the imminence of the passage of a new tariff law and the existence of grave foreign question, it developed today that of the forty nations represented here only one ambassador and eight ministers have remained in the capital. Others have hurriedly slipped away by one and twos to the mountains and the sea shore. The situation is considered one of the ordinary, congress is in session and the President of the United States remains actively at work at the White House.

Of the ambassadors, the only one remaining is Viscount Chinda, whose presence is necessitated by the reason of the California land law controversy. The eight ministers who are sticking to their posts as representatives, with the exception of the Cuban minister, are of Central and South American countries. They are accustomed to tropical weather in their own countries, he over, and are not suffering. The others, however have fled before torridity.

NO COMPROMISING OF SUITS BROUGHT BY GOVERNMENT

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Washington, July 23.—Secretary of the Interior Department Lane today announced there would be no compromising of suits brought by the government against private individuals for fraudulent entry and taking of government lands. The suits will be fought out on their merits as a matter of principle.

The secretary defended the policy under which he admitted "the government" doubtless will lose many suits which otherwise could be compromised.

He insisted, however, that it would develop respect of the law among the people at large and among those whose duty it is to see that the law is obeyed.
